

Renaud Trouvé, MD, PhD, DSci

Educator, Scientist and Manager, has an extensive experience in all related biology or medical fields, from agriculture to biotechnologies. As Assistant or Associate Professor of Anesthesiology he successfully led scientific and medical programs in Paris, Columbia New York and Houston universities.

He spent 8 years as Director of Research and Manager in the Pharmaceutical and Biomedical industries. He has been Advisor and Consultant for more than 50 companies both in Science and Management, developing partly or in full drugs and medical equipment's.

Heavily involved in quality and standards, he was, until recently, President of the Luxembourg Accreditation Committee. He is also a certified mentor at the Luxembourg Chamber of Commerce.

Recipient of three awards in Toxicology and one in Biomedical Engineering, he earned a PhD in Toxicology (national laureate of the French Society, 1986), a MD-PhD in Human Biology (biophysics) and a DSci in Experimental and Clinical Pharmacology from Paris U.