

Karim Benhadji, M.D.

Dr. Karim Benhadji is a board certified Medical Oncologist. He has received a Master of Science in Pharmacology and Therapeutics from the University of Paris 11 and his M.D. degree from University of Oran. He completed his fellowship in oncology at Oran University Hospital, Saint-Louis Hospital and Institut Curie.

In 2005, Karim joined Eli Lilly and Company as a Clinical Research Physician supporting late phase drug development for different oncology compounds and in different indications.

Since 2009, Karim joined the Global Early Phase Oncology development group and worked on several new molecular entities. He served as medical leader for several clinical programs including TGF $\beta$  and Notch inhibitors.